

Korah Collegiate: 2018 Ohio State Football Coaches Clinic

The 2018 Ohio State Football Coaches Clinic featured presentations from top NCAA / NFL coaches, trainers, and motivational speakers. The main focus of the clinic was developing a strong team culture and leadership. There were also several breakout sessions on player safety and positional fundamentals. Highlights of the clinic were presentations by Boston College Head Football Coach, Steve Addazio ("Taking The Next Step Through Culture & Chaos") and Ohio State Defensive Coordinator, Greg Schiano ("The Difference").

Clinic participants were also granted on-field access to an Ohio State Buckeyes football practice. The opportunity to observe drills and coaching instruction at the field level was very valuable. We would like to thank the Algoma District 2 OSSTF for supporting this professional development opportunity.

Thank you,
